REV. DR. CHRISTIAN MAKES STATEMENT

AN OLD-TIMER TALKS.

Terms Present General Assembly a "Preacher's Legislature" — Gave Away Half Million Revenue.

Richmond, March 5.—The heated statements made on the floor of the House yesterday afternoon by Delegate William M. Myers, of this city, to the effect that Dr. W. Asbury Christian, of the Union Station Methodist Church, had tried to "bribe" him and had threatened him for his opposition to the so-called "red light" or anti-vice bill, which seeks to abolish segregated districts in Virginia cities are still the subjects of conversation at the Capitol and throughout the city.

Dr. Christian, who was in the House gallery, attempted to reply to the speech of the Richmond delegate. He was not allowed to speak, as the rules of the House prohibit such proceedings.

A resolution was offered today by Delegate Willis, of Roanoke, condemning lobbying tactics such as those charged against Dr. Christian.

The following statement of Rev. Dr. W. Christian, in reply to the charges made against him on the floor of the House by Delegate Myers, of Richmond, was filed by Dr. Christian with Clerk Williams, of the House of Delegates:

To Hon. House of Delegates:

Gentlemen—I was very much surprised when Mr. Myers, of Richmond, made an unfair and uncalled for attack upon me on the floor of the House of Delegates today when I could not defend myself or correct his heated and untrue statement.

As a party of gentlemen, Dr. Carrington, Rev. John W. Shackford, Mr. McKee, and myself, were talking in the lobby of the House when Mr. Myers came up, we stopped him and asked him to support the Kenyon anti-vice bill. He talked continually and in an excited manner, and said he was in favor of licensing lewd houses and thus giving them the protection of the law and of the decent people.

He then made a statement about one of the advocates of the bill, reflecting seriously upon his moral character. I asked him if he could prove the statement, and he said he could not.

I then suggested to him that if he could not prove such a derogatory statement he should not make it. Mr. Myers then became very much excited and declared he was against the bill which seeks to banish the red light district, again declaring that he was in favor of licensing houses of ill-fame. I asked him that if he were called upon to furnish an inmate would he still be in favor of them. He replied "No." I then said that he should protect the poor and unfortunate who do have sorrow because of them. He continued to talk violently and to reiterate that some of the so-called reformers were not sincere. I told him that as he seemed to oppose every moral measure that came up in the House, standing for the saloons and advocating the licensing of houses of prostitution, that his constituents would desire him not to represent them again, and that it would hurt him also in his business. I had no idea of changing Mr. Myers by argument to which he would not listen, and I did not for a moment desire to intimidate him, but to tell him the simple facts in the case.

I only wanted the House not to pass judgment upon evidence of Mr. Myers' heated tirade, without at least hearing me.

(Signed).

W. ASBURY CHRISTIAN

One member of the Legislature has heard from home since the enabling act was passed. The letter is from a constituent who has already passed his forescore years. He is unalterably opposed to the enabling act or any interference with the "rights of a Virginia gentleman and his usual hospitalities," and he so says. Following is a copy of the letter, in which the writer expresses his sympathy for Governor Stuart, who has to preside over such a gang of fanatics:

Dear John—I have been reading the blue laws you and your houses have passed on the whiskey question. I suppose this is a preachers' Legislature, run by the Rev. James Cannon, giving away $500,000 of licenses for the State, and paying the old soldiers $2 a month and the time that is consumed on the whiskey question and the little petty gambling bills. Not since Roger Williams was whipped out of Massachusetts by the old Puritan stock have such dastardly laws been passed. A man has got to pay express on one gallon of whiskey from Ohio, and if he gets two, it is prima facie evidence he is selling. And ladies shall not offer prizes for whist, nor you shall not match coins. You ought to get up a bill that a man shall not kiss his wife on Sunday nor cross a river. They are a part of the old blue laws of Massachusetts.

When Caesar was assassinated and Marc Antony came to power he said: "O, Judgment, thou has fled to brutish boasts, and men have lost their reason!" That is what I think of the lower House. It will go down in history as the preachers' Legislature, as a majority of the members was sold to them before they were elected.

What a pity a man of Governor Stuart's brain power should have to preside over a set of fanatics, for I think Mr. Stuart was raised up an old Virginia gentleman, which is now extinct and never to be seen again.

Better for him to give the veto to those little petty bills and edicts, and give the old men ten years to get out of the habit of drinking whiskey. By that time I will be ninety years old and willing to quit. That is what the Empress of China did with the opium smokers. So goodbye.

P. S.—Give this letter to the Governor. I reckon his secretary can read it. I liked him so much when I was down there.

CHARGE AGAINST WOMAN.

Alleged to Have Embezzled $12,000 From Boston Business Man.

Washington, March 5.—Miss Madeline W. L. Curtin, spiritualist and "divine healer," is locked up at the House of Detention charged with being a fugitive from justice on a charge of embezzling more than $12,000 from Edward L. Ripley, a retired business man of Boston.

Miss Curtin, who is 40 years old, is well known in this city. Until a month ago she resided in Second St. N. E., and conducted "seances" at Pythian Temple.

Ripley, who now resides in Wilmington, Del., claims that the woman shortly after he gave her power of attorney, on January 19, last went to Boston and took from a safe deposit box, securities valued at between $12,000 and $15,000.

An indictment has been returned against the medium in Wilmington, and a copy of it was brought here today by State Detective Frank W. McCoy. He probably will take her to Wilmington later in the day.

Miss Curtin, between sobs this morning, declared she has known Ripley for the last ten years and that he had persistently pleaded with her to marry him.

The woman, it is alleged, went to Boston where she took from a safe deposit box the bonds, which Ripley accuses her of embezzling. The list in the indictment includes $5000 in bonds, thirty-five shares of Adams Express company stock, fifteen shares of the United States Smelter, five shares of American Sugar, five shares of Steel preferred, and numerous other stocks.

These stocks and bonds, it is recited, were placed in a trunk containing a quantity of wearing apparel belonging to Ripley. The trunk was taken to Philadelphia and Miss Curtin given the key, to act as Ripley's agent. Ripley claims that Miss Curtin left him in Philadelphia the latter part of February, since when he has been unable to get possession of his trunk or the stocks and bonds. He claims that these securities were not given to the woman, but that he simply gave her the power of attorney to act as his agent.

WILSON READS MESSAGE TODAY

HE MUST TAKE BLAME.

President in Message Reverses Baltimore Platform and His Own Position on Question.

Washington, March 5.—Reversing the Baltimore platform and his own previous position on the question of free canal tolls, and asking Congress to do likewise, President Wilson appeared before the House and Senate in joint convention shortly after noon today and read his special message on toils, in which he urged repeal of the exemption provision.

The President was forced to read to Congress a special message, because leading Democrats in Congress refused to take the responsibility for a fight to make their party colleagues face about on the tolls question and go back on a prominent plank in the platform.

The President's message was as follows.

Gentlemen of the Congress:

I have come to you upon an errand which can be very briefly performed, but I beg that you will not measure its importance by the number of sentences in which I state it. No communication I have addressed to the Congress carries with it graver or more far-reaching implications to the interest of the country, and I come now to speak upon a matter with regard to which I am charged in a peculiar degree, by the Constitution itself, with personal responsibility.

I have come to ask for the repeal of that provision of the Panama canal act of August 24, 1912, which exempts vessels engaged in the coastwise trade of the United States from payment of tolls, and to urge upon you the justice, the wisdom, and the large policy of such a repeal with the utmost earnestness of which I am capable.

In my own judgment, very fully considered and naturely formed, that exemption constitutes a mistaken economic policy from every point of view, and is, moreover, in plain contravention of the treaty with Great Britain concerning the canal concluded on November 18, 1901. But I have not come to you to urge my personal views. I have come to state to you a fact and a situation. Whatever may be our own differences of opinion concerning this much debated measure, its meaning is not debated outside the United States. Everywhere else the language of the treaty is given but one interpretation, and that interpretation precludes the exemption I am asking you to repeal. We consented to the treaty; its language we accepted, if we did not originate it; and we are too big, too powerful, too self-respecting a nation to interpret with too strained or refined a reading the words of our own promises just because we have power enough to give us leave to read them as we please. The large thing to do is the only thing we can afford to do, a voluntary withdrawal from a position everywhere questioned and misunderstood. We ought to reverse our action without raising the question whether we were right or wrong, and so once more deserve our reputation for generosity and the redemption of every obligation without quibble or hesitation.

I ask this of you in support of the foreign policy of the administration. I shall not know how to deal with other matters of even greater delicacy and nearer consequence if you do not grant it to me in ungrudging measure.

Mr. Albert Sunderlin who has been quite sick at his home on Queen street, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Robert Dove who has been sick at her home in north Royal street, with an attack of gripe, is greatly improved.

VERDICT FOR $1,500.

Jury in Circuit Court Awards Damages in Entichy Foresuch.

A jury in the Circuit today, with Judge J. E. T. Thornton, presiding, awarded $1,500 damages to Entichy Foresuch, alias Tony Gustave, who sued the Southern Railway Co., for $10,000. Foresuch was injured in an accident last summer when he was caught between an engine and its tender. He was crushed and has lost the use of one arm.

Foresuch was represented by Attorneys Samuel G. Brent and Howard W. Smith, and the Southern Railway by Colonel Francis L. Smith.

OVERCOME BY GAS.

Narrow Escape of Newly-Married Marylanders.

Washington, March 5.—Arthur C. Selby, 43 years old, of Glen Echo, Md., and his bride of less than a day, who was Cornelia De Mucle, were found unconscious from gas early today in a room at the Dumbarton Hotel, 628 Pennsylvania Avenue northwest. They were taken to Emergency Hospital, where, by noon, neither had regained consciousness.

Selby showed signs of improvement, and it is believed he will recover, but the woman's condition is critical.

Gas was escaping from one partially opened jet, and the police say that one of the couple, in extinguishing the light for the night, probably turned the thumb screw too far.

The couple came to Washington from Glen Echo yesterday and obtained the marriage license. The ceremony was performed in the afternoon by the Rev. B. D. Gaw, pastor of West Washington Baptist church, in his home. The couple registered at the hotel about 9 o'clock last night.

Shortly before 6 o'clock this morning, John Crossly, proprietor of the hotel, detected the odor of escaping gas which he traced to the couple's room. Forcing the door, he found Selby and his wife in bed unconscious. After turning off the gas he telephoned Emergency Hospital, and Dr. F. J. Ready responded with an ambulance.

GALE IN RAPPAHANNOCK.

Convict Camp Demolished And Buildings Wrecked at Washington, Va.

Washington, Va., March 5.—Blowing a gale of more than sixty miles an hour, a wind storm struck Rappahannock county late Sunday night, wrecking buildings and spreading terror. The buildings of State convict camp No. 28, were demolished and the terror stricken men were removed to temporary quarters.

At Washington, the county seat, the wind was more severe than in the neighboring villages. A large 150 foot, three-story brick building, owned by Dr. Jos. Wayman, of Staunton, in which was located the postoffice and store of C. Updike, was totally wrecked.

Byrd Updike, a clerk and brother of the proprietor, on investigation was discovered by F. C. Baggarly about 4:30 o'clock Monday morning in a room on the third floor, his exit having been cut off early in the night by falling walls and sheets of roofing, glass and loose brick that rammed the streets like shot.

Roofing was torn from the jail and the Masonic Hall, while the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist Churches were considerably damaged. A gable was blown from a large brick outbuilding on the Baggarly premises, and Commonwealth's Attorney Moffett's office in Judicial square was wrecked by roofs blown from neighboring buildings.

News has reached here of a large number of buildings wrecked in the villages of Woodville, Sperryville, and Flint Hill.

The Allison W. C. T. U., will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Children's Home, as matters of importance will be discussed. A full attendance is urged.

GOVERNOR STUART URGES ECONOMY

Says He Would Veto Bill Appropriating More Than $14,200,000.

HAS SERVED NOTICE.

General Assembly May Increase Original Estimates—Liberal Pensions For Ex-Confederates.

Richmond, Va., March 5—Chairman Brewer, of the House Appropriations Committee; Chairman Echols, of the Senate Apropriations Committee, and State Auditor C. Lee Moore were called into conference by Governor Stuart yesterday afternoon to discuss the financial affairs of the state.

The Governor showed alarm at the evident stampede of the House on Monday in voting 80 to 2 for a Confederate pension bill far exceeding the 20 per cent increase in pensions recommended by the House Committee on Appropriations, and at the further action of the House in adding salary increases and other items aggregating $72,060, while only $7,350 had been cut from the original bill.

The Governor did not issue a statement as to the results of the conference, but when the House reconvened Chairman Brewer informed the members of the conference and said:

"I a mauthorized to say as a result of the conference that the Governor will not approve bill carrying more than $14,200,000. You may put the knife wherever you please—the Appropriations Committee will not stand in your way.

"The Governor said he had been of the fixed opinion that this appropriation bill should not exceed $14,000,000, but because of the very urgent demands for increases for rural schools he would consent to go to $14,200,000, but no further."

The House adopted the committee's recommendations for an increase of $100 a year for the four keepers at the state penitentiary; added $10,000, making the total $55,000, for salaries and expenses of the Commission of Fisheries, the $10,000 to be expended for purchase and repairs of oyster boats; eliminated the $400 paid annually to the three unsalaried members of the Commission of Fisheries; adopted an amendment limiting the appropriations to Confederate pensions to $600,000; directed that $200,000 of the $600,00 general appropriation for schools be used for one and two room school houses and to lengthen the terms of the smallest type of rural schools; rejected an amendment to make an appropriation to build dormitory buildings for the 10 agricultural high schools located in each congressional district, and allowed the appropriation of $185,000 for good roads and the items for the various state hospitals to stand as recommended by the committee.

The Senate passed the House bill appropriating $5,000 a year for 1914-1915 for the relief of needy Confederate women not on the pension rolls and not inmates of charitable institutions and passed the Senate bill authorizing supervisors of counties and councils of towns and cities to appropriate money to advertising their resources, passed the bill regulating the employment of children in factories, laundries and workshops and as messengers in selling or distributing newspapers and periodicals after July 1, 1914.

MINORITY FAILS TO CHANGE BILL

A LONG DISCUSSION.

Senate Reconsiders Amendment Providing Separate Sets of Judges For Two Organizations.

Richmond, Va., March 5.—At the end of three and one-half hours of additional debate in the Senate yesterday the primary bill stood exactly where it was when its consideration was taken up at 12:30 o'clock as a special and continuing order. With the exception of the adoption of an inconsequential amendment requiring election officials to keep permanent tally sheets, every attempt to change the provisions of the bill as reported from the committee and subsequently amended was voted down.

Senate leaders acknowledged at adjournment yesterday afternoon that as far as actual progress towards the passage of the primary bill was concerned yesterday's two sessions were barren. A minority led by Senators Gravatt, Fletcher and Featherstone, resorted to various plans to s[ave] amendments to the section lying [at] the requirements as to primary [elec]tion judges, but was blocked at e[very] move by the forces aligned with Ch[air]man Holt, of the Privileges and E[lec]tions Committee, and Chairman Ri[ves] of the Senate Democratic caucus.

The consideration of the bill was [re]sumed at 12:30 o'clock and contin[ued] without marked contest until a [vote] the adoption of a minor amendm[ent] offered by Senator Gravatt requir[ing] the printing of tally sheets wh[ich] shall be preserved by election offic[ials] as documents of permanent reco[rd]. The document was incorporated aft[er] objection had been withdrawn by Se[n]ators Holt and Rison.

At this point Senator Brock mov[ed] that the Senate reconsider the vot[e] by which it adopted on Tuesday the Sowder amendment, providing separate sets of primary election judges for the two parties of the State, to be appointed by the local electoral boards, and to be of the same political faith as the party over whose election they are to preside. The motion paved the way for a debate which lasted the rest of the morning, and took up all of the afternoon session.

Senator Fletcher supported the motion offered by Senator Brock, explaining that if the Senate voted to reconsider a new amendment would be introduced offering a compromise plan for the selection of primary judges, which would meet the views of many senators who are satisfied with neither the Sowder plan nor the plan described in the bill. The adoption of the motion was urged by Senator Featherstone and Senator Walker, and was opposed by Senator Holt. It was put to a vote and carried 20 to 1[8].

Nantes, France, March 5.—Marcel Rabureau, a 15 year old lad, who killed seven persons with an axe at Basbriage-en-Landreau, last September, has been found guilty and sentenced to 20 years in prison, the maximum allowed by law. The trial began Tuesday.

In summing up for the defense, the boy's lawyer declared that at the time of the commission of the murders the lad was laboring under excessive nervous fatigue, due to hard work. When asked if he had anything to add to the words of his lawyer, Redureau arose with lowered head and wept, but said nothing.

WEATHER AND THE RIVER

Ice on Potomac Broken Up By Winds and Prevailing Milder Conditions

The high northwest winds of Sunday night and Monday and the mild conditions of yesterday have played havoc with the ice in the river, and should the temperature continue moderate, the reopening of the Potomac will be a matter of a few days.

So far as movements on the river are concerned, there is but little new to note. The Norfolk steamers continue to make their nightly trips. The Northland reached this port this morning about half an hour late. The Southland passed up about one o'clock yesterday afternoon without stopping. The Northumberland, of the Baltimore route, which was injured in a collision with the Newport News Monday night, passed down the river yesterday on her way to Baltimore, where she will be repaired.

Within the next week or two preparations will begin for the spring fishery. About the usual number of Alexandrians will engage in gilling.

It is a source of gratification among all interested that the authorities have taken steps towards preventing the wholesale catch and destruction of shad and herring as soon as they enter Chesapeake Bay this season. As has often been stated, if the fish are to be caught and ground up into fertilizer the spring fishery hereabouts will eventually become a thing of the past.

SECRETARIES ORGANIZE

James T. Preston of Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, One of Charter Members

James T. Preston, secretary of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, has returned from Charlottesville, where he was present at a meeting of the secretaries of chambers and boards from all parts of the State. An organization which has been named the Commercial Secretaries' Association of Virginia, was formed. It will hold meetings semi-annually. Mr. Preston is chairman of the organization.

The purposes of this organization will be to secure co-operation, in problems of State wide importance, to offer one another such protection as may be possible through information sent by mail; aid one another through the exchange of ideas at an occasional conference to be called by the chairman.

The Charlottesville Chamber of Commerce entertained the association with a smoker at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Mr. John Wood, of Roanoke, gave a very interesting talk on what could be accomplished by the co-operation of the members of the commercial organizations; also how the farmer, who produces 86 per cent. of the raw material used by manufacturers, could by working with the organization, benefit both himself and the community.

He was followed by Mr. W. T. Corwith, of Lynchburg, whose subject was the possible mutual benefit that could be derived by the newspaper and commercial organizations acting together.

The last speaker of the occasion was Mr. J. T. Preston, of Alexandria Mr. Preston showed very clearly what the commercial organization can do for the city by telling what had been accomplished in many instances. His talk was very impressive.

After the meeting a luncheon of sandwiches and coffee was served by the ladies.

Judge A. D. Dabney, president of the Charlottesville Chamber of Commerce, presided at the smoker.

STEAMER TRENTON SAVED.

The steamer Trenton, of the Potomac and Chesapeake Navigation Company, was saved from going to the bottom of the river at the foot of Eighth street, southwest Washington, this morning by police of the harbor precinct.

The boat has been tied up to the wharf all winter. Last night she sprung a leak due to the strain against her hull, and early this morning was found to be filling rapidly. The harbor patrol boat Vigilant went to the steamer's aid pumped the water out, and left her in a safe condition.

The Trenton is one of the small steamers that run between river landings. Several years ago she went to the bottom off the wharf at Alexandria, and a child drowned.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

ARMS SORE, BUT THEY SMILE.

Richmond, Va., March 5.—Members of the General Assembly who have been wincing during the past several weeks as they attempted to punctuate their speeches with gestures, and State officers whose left arms have been aching are smiling again today. They have been vaccinated and think the little operation worth all it cost.

The reason for vaccination and for smiles was made known today for the first time. It appears that several weeks ago a citizen came to the General Assembly from a distant part of the State, shook hands with a number of the legislators and then transacted some business in one of the Capitol offices. None who greeted him noticed anything unusual about his appearance. On the contrary, he was made welcome and was most cordially received.

But within a few days came the alarming news that immediately upon his return home, he had developed smallpox and had been placed under quarantine. To those who learned the facts and were not protected by vaccination, this news spelt consternation. The prospect of an outbreak of smallpox in the solemn council of the General Assembly of Virginia was enough to start a panic, especially among those who remembered when a member of the State legislature, going home at the end of the session several years ago had developed smallpox and died.

Word of the smallpox scare was carried at once to the State Board of Health whose officers proceeded without delay to vaccinate the clerks in the department where the visitor had called. A distinguished State officer, head of a large department of the governor, was also glad to roll up his sleeve for the same purpose. Announcement was then made to the General Assembly that members who wished to be vaccinated would be waited on if they called at the offices of the Board of Health. Some members who had been exposed and were not familiar with the facts relied on the old scare they carried, but those who had been exposed and a number of others at once protected themselves by vaccination. To the delight of all, the steps taken removed any danger to which the members and officers of government might have been subjected. The storm blew over quickly; the story leaked out today.

With this exception, the smallpox situation during the last few days has remained unchanged. A few new outbreaks have been reported and much vaccine has been ordered from the State Board of Health. "We are never easy, however," said an officer of the Board today, "and we have no assurance but that smallpox will speedily spread. The one way and the only way to prevent it is by vaccination."

May Help You if Lungs Are Affected

Proper diet, fresh air and temperate habits are beneficial to persons suffering from Lung Trouble; but in a great many instances reports show that the addition of a medicine for this affection has materially helped in bringing about recovery. For more than fifteen years Eckman's Alterative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles, has accomplished good results. Read what it did in this case:—

Madison Lake, Minn.

"Gentlemen: In December, 1908, March, 1909, and September, 1909, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs which confined me several weeks, each time to my bed. My doctor advised me to go West. In November I started for Denver, Col. After my arrival I met Michael Brody, who, upon learning of my condition, urged me to take Eckman's Alterative. I kept on taking the medicine and improved fast. In March, 1910, I returned home. I am entirely well, have a good appetite and sleep well. When I left Denver my weight was 130 pounds. I now weigh 165, my normal weight. I thank God and your Alterative for my health."

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

CLEAN UP WELLS NOW.

Board of Health Urges Farmer to Take Advantage of Brief Idle Season.

Richmond, Va., March 5.—In the judgment of the State Board of Health, the prudent farmer is he who will take advantage of the present idle season to make his well sanitary and to repair his outhouse before the coming of the busy weeks of spring.

In its weekly bulletin, given out today, the Board says: "Safety on the farm during the summer season depends in large degree upon the precautions taken in advance of the coming of hot weather. If farmers will utilize the next few weeks in repairing their outhouses and in protecting their wells, in accordance with our printed suggestions, they will gain a degree of health insurance that is invaluable. Literature on the sanitation of wells, springs and outhouses will be sent free upon request."

BARGE LOST IN STORM.

Wreckage Found Off Hatteras Life-Saving Station.

Norfolk, Va., March 5.—That the Philadelphia canal barge Saturn was lost in Pamlico Sound during the recent coastal storm was established yesterday when wreckage was found by life-savers of the Hatteras Inlet station. The fate of the crew is unknown.

Eleven hatch coverings and a pilot house, supposed to be from the Saturn, have come ashore near Leggins' Reef.

Winchester, Va., March 5.—William G. Conrad, multimillionaire Montana banker, railroad builder and mining king, was sinking rapidly last night at his country place, Montana Hall, near White Post, Clarke county. His sons, Harfield and Arthur, and daughters, Mrs. Gilbank Twigg, Markham Va., and Miss Minnie Conrad, are with him. Several physicians and nurses are constantly in attendance.

Mrs. Nevada Van Valkenburgh, known to two continents as the "ten-million-dollar widow," whose decree of divorce from her third husband was granted only last week, says that in spite of the disasters she has met with on the sea of matrimony she has decided to embark on another voyage. This time she will wed a French nobleman.

OPPOSE VACCINATION.

Over Three Hundred Residents of Petersburg Meet to Protest.

Petersburg, Va., March 5.—More than three hundred citizens, men and women crowded into A. P. Hill Camp Hall a few nights ago and scores were turned away to protest against compulsory vaccination.

The meeting grew out of E. B. Wilson being fined in Police Court for refusing to allow his 8-months-old baby to be vaccinated, from which he took an appeal to the Hustings Court.

Strong and interesting addresses were made by Dr. Harry B. Baker, of Richmond and Dr. A. M. Smith of this city, in support of the views of the anti-vaccinationists, and resolutions were adopted which will be presented to the city council requesting that no further appropriation be made for the prosecution of vaccination and asking that the ordinance compelling vaccination, in so far as it applies to Petersburg, be repealed.

A large number of those present pledged their membership and influence for the furtherance of an association to be organized and known as the Anti-Compulsory Vaccination Association of Virginia.

Mr. Wilson, in reference to appealing his case, stated that his means were limited with which to carry the case to the Supreme Court, but there was a strong sentiment among those present to assist in his defense and have tested the constitutionality of the ordinance.

ONE OF CRUTCHFIELD'S CASES.

Mother of 28 Told to Thrash Her Erring Son.

Richmond, Va., March 5.—"I don't know that it makes any difference, but I thought it might be a little bit easier on my boy if I told you that I am the mother of twenty-eight children."

So said Mary Brown, colored to Justice Crutchfield in the juvenile court late yesterday.

"Twenty-eight! Get out, you're joking," the judge replied.

"Honest," insisted the woman, and proceeded to relate how the stork had five times arrived with twins and eighteen other times with one little stranger.

The son for whom Mary pleaded was Robert Brown—No. 22, if the judge reckoned correctly—charged with disorderly conduct.

"If I had a medal I would be disposed to present it to you. I shan't punish your son. Take him home and give hom a thrashing," was the judge's decision after a scant two minute's reflection.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER.

Thirty-seven white adults have paid the debt of nature in Alexandria since the first of January. Among this number were three octogenarians, who died during the present week. During the same period four young people have been called away while at the portals of manhood and womanhood.

"The old must, the young may," is an ancient truth. The remains of three who had passed the eightieth mile post were followed to the grave today by relatives, friends and acquaintances.

According to statistics, one-half of the human race die in infancy, and one-half of those who survive the perils of childhood, never reach the age of thirty. Persons who arrive at forty see during those two-score years about twelve hundred millions of human beings pay the debt of nature, or about as many people as are on earth at any one time. Hence the ancients who laid down their pilgrim staves during the past few days in Alexandria have witnessed the exodus of two generations from this mundane sphere. Grim thoughts, but facts nevertheless.

The law of mortality is as precise as the coming and going of the seasons. The Gazette on the last day of each year during the past third of a century published lists of deaths of white adults during the preceding three hundred and sixty-five days. Those who have given the matter thought have been struck at the annual average, about one death every other day. Counting children and colored persons whose names do not appear in the mortuary columns, death strikes down about one a day in our city and neighborhood.

INVASION OF CHURCHES.

The larger cities of the country are up against a serious proposition—the invasion of churches by unemployed men who take possession and defy attempts upon the part of church officers to oust them. They enter these edifices for shelter and comfort, and with no thought of their spiritual welfare, and when welcomed by the ministers and invited to join in the revotions they manifest their contempt of all claims of the Creator upon them, and the ministers find they are scattering pearls to swine.

Scenes in a large Catholic church in New York last night when a band of men, led by a stripling, virtually took possession amid the screams of women and confusion incident upon the descent of the gang were thrilling. The police, who had been apprised of the intended visit, were on hand, and locking the doors, managed to corral the gang. They were placed under arrest upon the technical charge of disturbing public worship.

That such scenes are to be repeated is the boast of the intruders and the time may come when religion may no be found in her silver slippers, and when nerve will be again a requisite for those who are bent upon offering up their devotions.

The incidents now being recorded in other cities brins to mind a scrap of Alexandria history. One Sunday morning in the early part of 1862, while an average congregation was in St. Paul's Church, it was noticed that a number of men belonging to the Eighth Illinois Cavalry, including several officers, were among the worshippers. This was common at that time in the Alexandria churches, and the presence of the strangers attracted no especial attention, until an officer arose and commanded the rector Rev. Mr. Stewart to pray for the President of the United States. The minister continued the service without paying any attention to the interruption until the officer advanced to the rail and entering the enclosure arrested Mr. Stewart. He was ordered to divest himself of his canonicals which the rector refused to do, and he was marched through the streets in his robes to a provost marshal's office to answer the charge of treason.

The Gazette, which was then being published under all sorts of difficulties and at a loss, described the incident next day under the heading "An Outrage." Late that night the office was found to be burning and surrounded by soldiers, who kept back any person who attempted to extinguish the flames. It required the countersig for Alexandrians to come upon the streets after 10 o'clock, and the proprietors of the paper were kept in their homes while their property was being destroyed. There was nothing but the bare walls to gaze upon next morning.

HAD BOTH LEGS CUT OFF.

David Freshwater Meets With Horrible Accident.

New Bern, N. C., March 5.—A belated report of a horrible accident which occurred at Bear Creek, Onslow county a few days ago, reached New Bern today.

David Freshwater, a well known young man of that section, had both legs cut off and is in a critical condition. The victim is a son of George Freshwater and was employed in the saw mill owned and operated by D. W. Russell. In some unexplained way, young Freshwater came in contact with one of the rapidly revolving saws and this cut off both legs. The young man is still alive, but grave fears for his recovery are entertained.

Arthur Booth, a Norfolk and Western engineer, and A. S. Thompson, a negro, were killed when locomotives collided at Bluefield, W. Va.

Additional cases of smallpox have been discovered at Strasburg, Va. and the quarantine has been put into effect again.

LESS DYSPEPSIA NOW
HERE'S THE REASON

The fact that there is less dyspepsia and indigestion in this community that there used to be is largely, we believe, due to the extensive use of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, hundreds of packages of which we have sold. No wonder we have faith in them. No wonder we are willing to offer them to you for trial entirely at our risk.

Among other things they contain pepsin and bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science. They soothe the inflamed stomach, allay pain, check heartburn and distress, help to digest the food and tend to quickly restore the stomach to its natural, comfortable healthy state.

There is no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. Your word is enough for us. If Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets don't restore your stomach to health and make your digestion easy and comfortable, we want you to come back for your money. They are sold only at the 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town by Wm. P. Taylor, druggist, 616 King street. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Angered at the attitude taken by Capt. von Stahl, chief of works at the shrapnel tube factory of the Poutiloff armament works, of St. Petersburg, a foreman seized an iron bar and killed the captain yesterday. The workman then committed suicide by jumping into the machinery and being ground to death. The tragedy was the result of an order that the 15,000 workers participate in the celebration of the emancipation of the Serfs. The men refused to obey the order and struck.

Angered because he was called several times, Luther Martin, of Norcross, Ga., jumped from bed, grabbed a revolver, shot and mortally wounded his wife, seriously injured his mother-in-law, Mrs. Albert McKinney, missed his daughter, and then committed suicide by shooting himself through the head and cutting his throat with a razor.

The Barberton Ministerial Association of Akron, Ohio, yesterday suspended Rev. D. W. Ebbert, pastor of the First Reformed Church, and Rev. A. M. Bird, mayor of Barberton, and until recently pastor of the Church of Christ in that city. The charge against Mr. Ebbert are assuming an attitude in opposition to the local option movement and giving to reporters information regarding secret meetings of the ministerial association. The charge against Mr Bird is the repudiation of former confessions.

A story unparalleled in the history of shipping was told by Capt. Dimmock, of the Austro-American liner Oceania, when the vessel arrived in New York yesterday. The captain said that while the vessel was off the coast of Algiers it ran into a shoal of bodies of men and women. They were bodies of Arabs which were being taken to the Holy Land for interment and had floated out to sea after an Arabian funeral ship was wrecked.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Derby are expecting a visit from the stork at their home, 969 Park avenue, New York. Mrs. Derby was Miss Ethel Roosevelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Theodore Roosevelt. Her marriage to Dr. Derby, of New York, was celebrated in Oyster Bay, Long Island, on April 4, 1913. Mrs. Roosevelt is with her daughter.

The body of Esther Cretzer, who has been missing from Stocktor, Cal., for six weeks, was found yesterday in Trapper slough, near Holt, Cal. The body had been cut into eleven pieces, which were contained in four sacks. The fall of water in the slough exposed the sacks. The girl was seen in company with a Chinese. A Chinese barber in Holt is under arrest.

John Bassett Moore, counselor for the State Department, after less than a year of service, has tendered his resignation to President Wilson, and it has been accepted. It is a matter of common report that Mr. Moore's personal viewpoint on some of the most important policies relating to foreign affairs were not always in accord with those of his superiors. It is said Mr. Moore, when called upon for his opinion, submitted a memorandum citing precedents by which the United States would be justified in recognizing the Huerta government.

We Promise You Relief from All Stomach Troubles Or Your Money Back

We honestly believe we have the best remedy in the world for indigestion and dyspepsia. We urge you to try it at our risk. If it doesn't relieve you—as we feel sure it will—we'll give back your money without a word. You know us—your family druggist. You know we wouldn't dare recommend anything we didn't know about, nor dare to break a promise. Therefore, when we recommend any remedy it is because we believe it to be better than any other to relieve the ailment for which it is made, and when we prove our faith in it and our sincerity toward you by promising to give back your money if it doesn't relieve you and in every way satisfy you, you have no possible excuse for doubt or hesitation.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets

are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills

We Know They're Good

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Delays Are Dangerous

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

You Risk No Money

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. We always sell them this way, and it is because we know that they have greatly benefited scores of sufferers to whom we have sold them. There's no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. You needn't sign anything. Your word is enough for us. We know that when they help you you will consider it money well spent even if they had cost you ten times as much. If they don't help you, the money you paid for them is yours, and we want you to have it.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores—the World's Greatest Drug Stores. In convenient boxes—three sizes: 25c, 50c, $1.00

SAVE YOUR TEETH

Before it is too late. Your health depends upon the soundness of your teeth, and the longer you delay having them treated the worse your general health will be.

To the average person all dentists' advertisements read just about alike—but there is a decided difference in dentists. This difference is in the SKILL, WORKMANSHIP and MATERIALS used. I am a dentist of long experience, and my work is positively the best to be had. Nineteen years' experience.

WORKERS INVADE CHURCH.

Great Excitement Among Worshippers in New York Last Night.

New York, March 5.—Several hundred men who under the leadership of the Industrial Workers of the World, have been marching on church edifices recently, were arrested last night in St. Alphonsus' Catholic Church, on West Broadway, after they had disregarded warnings that if they entered the church it would be under peril of arrest.

As the man neared the church, detectives informed Frank Tannenbaum, 21 years old, who has headed the demonstrations during the last few days, that if the men entered the building they would do so at their peril. Tannenbaum, instead of heeding the advice, called on the men to follow him.

A Lenten service was in progress in the church when the men marched in. Women screamed when they saw the intruders, who, paying little attention to this, quickly occupied seats well in front. When the last of the men had entered the church the detectives ordered the doors locked.

When the policemen entered the church building pandemonium ensued. For half an hour there was wildest disorder, due in a measure to the efforts of the police to separate the intruders from the worshippers. The Rev. J. G. Schenider and several other priests, who tried to pacify the men by talking to them, found their good intentions useless.

That men were taken from the church in twos and conveyed in patrol wagons to the nearest police stations. Later they were brought into the domestic relations court for a preliminary hearing.

Tannenbaum was locked up after his arraignment, in default of $5,000 bail. Sixty of the prisoners also were arraigned. These were each held in $1,000 bail for a hearing today on the charge of disorderly conduct.

Most of the prisoners were foreign born, about 70 per cent of them in eastern European countries. One man had $750 in his possession, which he said he had earned as a machinist. No one of the others had more than a dollar in his pockets.

When Tannenbaum was told by the detectives that he and his followers were at liberty to enter the church, but would have to take the consequences, he replied that he cared nothing about any result.

SOUL LEAVES BODY

Pastor's Wife, Thought Dead, Has Strange Experience.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 5.— Mrs. Baker P. Lee, whose family for a time during a recent illness believed her dead, is convinced that her spirit left her body and returned. She is a religious and accomplished woman, wife of the rector of Christ Church here.

"I had been unconscious most of the time," said Mrs. Lee. "My periods of lucidity were few and brief. Just before the experience which befell me, my heart seemed to stop beating.

"The nurse suddenly started and cried, 'Why, she's gone!'

"She called to my husband, and said, 'Come quick; she's gone!'

"I saw my husband come in. He looked at me, and exclaimed, 'My God, has it come?' I tried to open my eyes but I could not. I said to myself, 'I'm not dead,' but I was powerless to move.

"Then the four children were brought in weeping, and they looked at me. Presently they all went out.

"Then my father stepped into the room just as he used to be in life. He and I were chums. I said, 'I'm not dead.' He replied, 'Not yet,-not yet.' Then he went out.

"Suddenly I felt my spirit leaving my body. It was gone in an instant, leaping out, a joyous light, and exhilirating release of the very essence of life into space.

"My form remained the same, but the substance had utterly changed. It was now a translucent vapor, capable at my will, of going immediately to any place.

"I possessed all my faculties, imagination, will, and memory. After experiencing unimaginable joy it went back into my body."

Oakland, N. J., March 5.—It became known yesterday that three persons are believed to have perished in the fire that destroyed the Brookside Inn, near Campgaw, Sunday night. A. N. Allen, the proprietor, his wife and his mother have been missing since the blaze.

Breaking of wire communication by the storm kept back the news of the probable fatalities. No guests were in the building.

EXPERIENCE IN THE BAY.

Crisfield, Md., March 5.—With little fire and food, no water and surrounded by breaking waves, which quickly froze as the spray dashed over the deck of the vessel, two men, a woman and two little children suffered untold hardships on a barge in the Chesapeake Bay, off Tangier Island, Monday and Tuesday. The story of their plight and their subsequent rescue after all hope of help had been abandoned was brought to Crisfield yesterday by Capt. Asa Wiggins, of Tangier Island.

A tug towing three barges loaded with guano from Baltimore to Norfolk encountered the storm off the mouth of the Potomac river Sunday afternoon. The gale and heavy sea put such a strain on the hawse that the near barge broke away from the other vessels. The crew of the tug either did not notice the parting of the hawse or the storm was too severe to permit the tug to go back and pick up the barge, and in a short while the steam craft and the remaining two barges were lost to view.

The captain of the barge thus set adrift threw out the anchor and attempted to hold the barge in the mouth of the Potomac, but the vessel was swept across Chesapeake Bay, being near Tangier beach about midnight Sunday.

Those aboard, including the captain and his wife; the mate and the captain's two sons, aged 4 and 5 years, were in a sorry plight with scarcely any fuel and food supply almost exhausted. The barge had sprung a leak near the rudder and was filling fast, while the high waves beat over the craft with great force. The woman and her two children, huddled together in the house cabin, while the captain and his mate took turns at the pump in an attempt to keep the barge afloat. Hope of rescue or of saving the vessel was given up, and when the gray streaks of morning began to appear in the East the little group gathered in the housed part of the barge and united in prayer.

Daylight showed Tangier Island about a mile away, and distress signals were displayed. By this time the barge was ice-coated, from two to three feet of ice covering the deck and the sides. The residents of the island saw the craft, but the continuous gale and the heavy ice made it impossible to render assistance. watched for an opportunity to go to watched for an opporunity to go to the assistance of those on the barge, women offering up supplications for the safety of the five persons in dire peril. Through Monday night the two men kept steadily at the pumps, and although nearly exhausted from exertion, cold and hunger, Tuesday morning found the barge still above water. Again distress signals were raised.

The line of people on the island could be plainly seen from the deck, but the bay was still too rough to attempt rescue.

About one o'clock Tuesday afternoon the people on the barge gave up their fight and lost all hope of being rescued. There was only one life preserver aboard and father and mother were confronted with the awful necessity of deciding upon which of the little tots to fasten the contrivance. After much agitated deliberation the mother decided to give the two children an equal chance for life and lashing the two boys together she tied the life preserver about them both.

About four o'clock a party of men launched a small gasoline vessel owned by the fishing firm of Bradshaw and Parks, and started for the barge. After a desperate battle with the ice and the heavy sea they reached the imperiled craft and took off all hands. Mother and her children were weeping as the gasoline launch drew near the barge and the two men also broke down and cried when help came.

All of the party had suffered severely and are now being cared for at the home of Captain Andrew M. Parks. They are from Camden, N. J.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.
